Connie was known as “The Queen Of D-Star”, and ran the International D-Star Net for many years before her death from breast cancer. Danielle passed all 3 of her ham radio exams a couple of years ago, and was an Extra Class operator at 9 years of age!! Danielle is known as “The Princess Of D-Star”. Both of her parents, Dan (N8YMD) and Cindy (KE8JNT) are also licensed.

Connie left big shoes to fill with her passing, and Danielle is the future of the hobby. A poem in memory of Connie (who I never had the chance to meet), is located at <https://www.theweatherwonder.com/s464.htm> -- I understand “she gave the best hugs, and made the best cookies”.

This file is a list of selected D-Star, D-Rats, and Echolink Nets, with links to DMR, CQ100, D-Star HF, and Hamsphere Nets. It does NOT include things like CW, RTTY, or other mode nets. If you know of such pages, please email me the URL, and I’ll add it to this data. This file has the nets per day of the week, with the times and locations of the net. A Compact Version of this list, is available at the URL noted above.

The net list was last updated Aug. 9, 2020...with an email sent out if there are changes...and providing the URL (noted below), where it can be obtained.

The net listings start on Page 5. At present, this file is 18 pages long, with nearly 150 nets. Note that this file does NOT include the following items:

! With few exceptions, comments for each net, such as Facebook Groups, D-Rats Availability for the voice nets (except where known – see the graphic for selected D-Rats Ratreflectors (separately, and in the Mode Overview file, for connection information)), Early/Pre-Net Checkins, Net Checkin Certificates, etc. are not listed. Check with the various Net Controls for more information. Selected Nets with details on their themes, etc. are in the “Net Theme Descriptions” file, available at the URL noted below.

! Screenshots for getting started with D-Rats, and info on the QuadNet Array. These are in a file noted as “Mode Overview”...available at the URL noted below.

! DMR, D-Star HF, CQ100, HamSphere, CW, RTTY, IRLP, Allstar, Christian related, or other mode nets. The links are noted below for DMR, D-Star HF, CQ100, and HamSphere Nets. If you know of a URL for CW, RTTY, or other modes and nets, please let me know, and I’ll add it to the listings. I do NOT have the time to undertake net lists for other modes...so, someone else “must take the ball, and run with it”.

! UTC Net Times (most all of the nets originate in the US or its territories). An Excel Spreadsheet for Net Times in UTC is available at the URL noted below. You must have Microsoft Excel or the equivalent to view/print/work with it.

As a side note, to convert the USA Time to UTC (GMT) Time, the difference between US Eastern Time and UTC is 4 hours from the 2nd Sunday in March to the 1st Sunday in November; 5 hours the rest of the year. Please note that Arizona, Hawaii, and some US territories, are on Standard Time year round. GMT is based on the time at the Greenwich Meridian in England.

A simple link for converting current US Times to UTC time is at:

<https://tycho.usno.navy.mil/simpletime.html>

Like it or not, NOT every ham radio operator uses UTC Time in their shack, unless they’re avid contesters, etc. Plus, there is NO REQUIREMENT in Part 97 of the FCC Rules, that hams use UTC Time in their shacks. So, please do

NOT complain to me about this...your words will fall on deaf ears.

You can go to <https://www.theweatherwonder.com/elk.htm> to download this file, and several other files as well. That page was originally designed as a page for Echolink Nets only, as I had started with Echolink in 2006, but didn't start using D-Star until 2012. The net that gave me the inspiration for the document has gone QRT, as of August, 2020.

 Additions, Changes, Corrections, and Deletions, since July 22, 2020 ***

Additions:

None.

Changes/Corrections:

The Illinois D-Star Net has MOVED to REF 51D, effective July 22, 2020. It is no longer on REF 1B. It will still meet on Wednesdays at 9pm Central Time.

The KB0ZSG International D-Star Net will MOVE to REF 91C on Sept. 13, 2020. However, it'll still meet on Sundays at 7pm Central Time.

Note that once COVID-19 restrictions are loosened, the day and time for the D-Star Picture Net will change...but that data is unknown right now. Lew, KB5HPT, will advise me of changes on that.

I've also created compact versions of this full list...D-Star and D-Rats Nets...and Echolink Nets...all in separate files.

Note that work on the audio file for this listing for the Visually Impaired, has been suspended until further notice; due to various issues...sorry for any inconvenience; your understanding is greatly appreciated.

Deletions:

The Millennium Net, originally "The Net On 6" (because it met on both 6 meters and Echolink), due to various issues, has gone QRT as of August, 2020. They were the original inspiration for this nets listing.

None. Notice of any nets that have shut down would be greatly appreciated.

As noted above, if the primary net mode is OTHER than D-Star, D-Rats, or Echolink, it will NOT be listed below. However, if the net DOES include, or is linked to these modes (such as with the QuadNet Array), it WILL be listed; but stations submitting such information must note such in their email.

Membership in groups such as the American Radio Relay League (ARRL), Courage Kenny Handi-Hams, the Quarter Century Wireless Association (QCWA), the Community Emergency Response Team (CERT), The American Legion, etc., are NOT required to checkin to the nets...just a valid amateur radio license with privileges to transmit on the modes noted for the nets.

See the file “Nets Where WX4QZ is Net Control” for information on my nets. These are the main nets where I am on the air...checkin to other nets noted below by yours truly are NOT guaranteed. As noted above, I have other things in my life besides ham radio that demand my attention. To contact me with info on any changes, corrections, additions, or deletions, send an email to wx4qz@arrl.net or wx4qz@winlink.org

For a list of nets where I’m Net Control, look for the file in either my D-Rats Files area, or <https://www.theweatherwonder.com/elk.htm> – for all PDF files, a PDF reader is required.

No matter when the nets meet, these are grouped by the U.S. Eastern Time on that day.
